Telegrams.

(By Havas Agency)

Rome, Feb. 6th—Sr. Di Riduni has accepted the task of forming a new Cabinet Various names are being mentioned in connection therewith, but up to the present nothing definite is known.

Madrid, Feb. 6th—The full results of Sunday's elections are now known. The new Chamber consists of 289 Ministerialists and 154 of the Opposition. Of the latter, there are 25 Republicans and 7 Carlists.

The Chilian Revolution.

Santiago de Chile, Feb. 5th—By decree, the army is to be raised to twenty four thousand men.

Full confirmation has been received of the arrival of the Imperial at Iquique and landing of Colonel Robles's men.

The fleet opened fire on Iquique and a shell from the Blanco Encalada killed two men and wounded five.

Another decree has been issued prohibiting the withdrawal of money deposited in the banks by the persons whose properties have been confiscated.

Puente de Inca, Feb. 5th—The revolution has developed into a civil war, and a guerrilla warfare has begun.

The Government is running short of money and is thinking of forcing the people to lend it money. Unauthorised paper money is at present in circulation.

Santiago de Chile, Feb. 5th—The Esmeralda made an attempt to intercept letters carried by the British steamer Bolivia in Coquimbo, but failed. It then tried to land men and again failed.

THE MORTGAGE BANK.

The offer of the Government to pay Cedula holders 40 per cent is practically a confession that 60 per cent of the sums lent out on mortgage are either on properties of no value at all, or sunk in estates that cannot pay the quarterly interest. This is, indeed, a very sad state of things, but it might be much worse. Rumors have been for some time current in Europe that the Banco Hipotecario was in a far more deplorable condition, and that the properties affected by mortgage did not represent more than 10 per cent of the Cedulas in circulation.

It is true that the quotations on the London Stock-exchange were about 20, but this arose from the fact that the guarantee of the Government of Buenos Ayres was supposed to double the actual value of the Cedulas. Now, if it can be shewn on any reasonable grounds that the assets available for Cedula holders are really worth 40 per cent of the liabilities this would give fresh value to the stock.

Of course it must not be forgotten that 40 in paper is only equal to 12 in gold, but even allowing for this, and taking the Government guarantee as doubling the intrinsic value, we find that Cedulas ought then to command a quotation of 24 per cent gold. This means a discount of 76 per cent, but it is at least consoling to know that things are not much worse.

If the shade of that good and upright man Francisco Balbin could revisit the haunts of business people and learn that the properties held by the Mortgage Bank were no longer worth 200 per cent of the sums lent on them, but only represented 40 per cent in shin plasters, the shock that such a revelation would give can hardly be imagined. Mr. Balbin died in the conviction that the Bank founded by him was a blessing to his country. How terrible has been the march to ruin since Mr. Balbin died! In the history of mankind you will hardly find a parallel.

THE NEXT CRISIS.

The next crisis that may be looked for in South America is that of Brazil, in which country all the same courses that have caused such trouble in the River Plate are being pursued by the Government and its supporters. The issue of paper-money has been authorized up to the sum of 300 million hard dollars or 60 millions sterling, and a period of inflation has already commenced although the actual circulation does not yet reach one-half the authorized amount. It is possible that when the paper-money fever shall have reached its height the limit of 60 millions sterling may be considered too strict, and perhaps the issue will be doubled.

What effect will the Brazilian crisis have on this market? That is a question not easily answered. But as regards Brazil the effects will be no less disastrous than we witness at Buenos Ayres and Montevideo. It may appear strange that the authorities in Brazil should despise not only the warnings of Baron Rothschild but the lessons of experience that the River Plate republics offer in this regard. Unfortunately the history of mankind is replete with like instances of folly.

The only explanation is, that matters of finance and still more matters of currency are Greek to the majority of educated men. It would be very absurd to give a shoemaker the charge of the Cordoba university, or to select the poet Tennyson as director of the Bank of England. Yet as a matter of fact the finances of half of the nations, the most civilized nations, in the world are handled by men who have never read the history of John Law or studied Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations. Can it, then, be a matter of surprise if the Government of Brazil fall into the most lamentable errors, such as causing an inflation of currency? It may happen that one hundred years hence the bulk of educated men will be as conversant with the first principles of economy as we are now with lightning conductors.

THE CAUSES OF DEFEAT.

The Argentine political world has suffered a considerable shock by the publication of a pamphlet that might be called, "Dr. Alem's Vindication." In this most interesting document we glean many facts unknown to the majority, and read many comments that but very slightly disguise considerable ill feeling on the part of the Chief of the Revolutionary party. The pamphlet in question is a compilation of the revolutionary events of last July; but Dr Alem has confirmed in a letter to Dr. Barroetaveña the appreciations and facts contained in those chapters that deal with the organisation and execution of the revolution and causes of its failure. The main object of all the disclosures made in this new pamphlet is condensed in the following frank statement of Dr. Alem—

"I had the generosity of assuming the entire responsibility of the failure of the most popular revolution ever made in our country. Now it is time that the burden of this responsibility be distributed, especially as my conduct fails to meet with appreciation, and attempts are made to mystify the public."

We may, therefore, presume that the signal for mutual recriminations has been given; and the explanations that the present pamphlet must necessarily evoke from the leaders of the revolution will form an interesting chapter for the historian. Dr. Alem states that much light still remains to be thrown on this subject and that he has plenty of materials to write his memoirs in connection with the disastrous events of last July. Meantime, let us follow the compiler of the pamphlet, evidently no impartial authority, since he is the mouth-piece of Dr. Alem. It appears that the revolutionary committee wished to begin warlike operations in broad daylight; a violent interpellation in Congress was to have summoned the Minister of War and all his colleagues in the Cabinet to the legislative precincts; in view of the sensation that the interpellation would necessarily cause, it was assumed that the President of the Republic would attend business in the Government House and that the Vice President, Dr. Pellegrini, and General Roca would be present in Congress. In the midst of the interpellation armed bands of civilians were to attack Congress and the Government House and all the leaders of the governing party; the disaffected troops would be marching on the Plaza and in the midst of the commotion throw their rifles at the feet of the revolutionists. This was a very sound plan, but the military members of the revolutionary committee objected, on the plea that it was dangerous to expect the troops to rebel against the Government in the presence of the authorities and many military dignitaries who enjoyed prestige in the ranks.

Another plan was to organize a great festival in the Opera or Politeama and attack the theatre and seize the President of the Republic or his chief supporters: it was argued that the ladies would faint at first, but that they would recover rapidly and then applaud the revolution. Meantime, the disaffected regiments were to march from their barracks, concentrate around the theatre and take possession of the Government House, Police Station, etc., etc. This plan was also thrown out, as the military members of the Central Committee maintained that it was not prudent to march troops from the barracks at an early hour of night.

The third plan was the concentration of revolutionary forces in the Plaza Parque before daylight. This, as we know, eventually took place on the famous 26th of July. This concentration was to be followed up by immediate action. Two strong columns should have been detached: one to capture the Central Police Station, and the other to overcome the Government troops in detail. This latter part of the plan, however, was not carried out, as General Campos overruled the idea, on the plausible argument that two more regiments of the Line were on the point of joining the revolution. It thus happened that the National Government had breathing-time to secure a basis of operations in the Plaza Retiro and Plaza Mayo. Dr Alem cannot account for the bungling that prevented the arrest of General Roca and the Minister of War. What followed is familiar to all; instead of attacking, as Dr Alem proposed, the military leader of the revolution fortified the position in the Plaza Parque, and waited for an attack; their ammunition ran short and surrender followed. There was still one ray of hope left when ex-Governor Maximo Paz arrived at the Parque on Monday morning, the 28th; but all hopes vanished when that provincial leader declared that, although he thought the revolutionists were fighting in a holy cause, he could not afford them any support. The Epilogue we all know. Dr Alem vindicates himself, but the military leader of the revolution, General Manuel Campos, will, no doubt, now rise to explain his view of the case.

THE CARCANO PAMPHLET.

"The report that considerable frauds had been discovered in the Post Office rapidly gained ground and provoked many comments and disclosures in the press. In these circumstances the Post Master General wrote to the Home Minister stating that, according to the tabular statements of the General Accountant's Office, there was a balance of 9,024,592 dols. against the Post Office.

"Such a communication, written without taking into account the nature and responsibility of the charges involved, or ascertaining the degree of truth in them, gave rise to the opinion that that large sum had been embezzled.

"The Post-Master-General cannot by himself handle the funds of his department. Everything connected with money comes within the sphere of the Seccion Administradora, which office keeps the books, and it is there the history and vouchers of every transaction of the Post Office will be found.

"An examination of the books of the Seccion Administradora would have sufficed to put things in their proper light. It seemed, however, that this course would not do, and a silence was observed which to the public mind would appear to confirm the charges.

"In these circumstances the Procurador Fiscal of the State applied to the Post-Master General for the antecedents of the case, in order to institute judicial proceedings. In reply the Post-master General stated he had no antecedents to give, and that the General Accountant's Office should be applied to.

"In reply to an application the General Accountant's Office stated there was no ground for judicial proceedings.

"The Accountants' Committee, appointed to look over the accounts, have issued their report in which they state that, having carefully gone through all the accounts during my administration they found everything correct.

"The unexplained balance of 9,024,592 dollars was found to be the consequence of mixing up the accounts of the Olivera and Ojeda administrations since 1877, there being besides many sums omitted with which the Department should have been credited and others with which it should have debited itself.

"When I became Postmaster General there was no regularity in the keeping of the accounts, to such an extent, indeed, that the Contaduria Nacional had to take over the accounts of the Post Office. All money received was handed to the cashier, who paid the salaries and expenses. But there was no way of arriving at the sources of the items put down in the books.

"My first step was to name a committee of distinguished auditors, who opened new books, and in this way abuses were finally suppressed. All accounts and business of the Department were placed on a proper basis.

"The Contaduria Nacional has shown the utter worthlessness of the report of the supposed defalcations which created so much commotion and gave the press an opportunity of making so much noise.

"An irreproachable authority has destroyed that report, while showing the immense amount of work it required to raise the Post Office to the rank it to-day occupies."

LONDON LETTER.

ARGENTINE AFFAIRS.

Jan. 2nd.

There was another meeting of the Argentine Committee last Tuesday, 30th inst., but from the reticence observed we conclude nothing decisive is yet arranged. All that is known, and perhaps more, you will find in two articles I enclose. One from the Financial News of yesterday and one from the Daily Oracle of to-day. I really do not know if either of the papers mentioned belong to that class of bucket-shop, blackmailing, wrecking, so-called financial papers against which Truth, a very good authority on Mammon, cautions us. I will say that in the treatment of Argentine finance both papers show a great deal of knowledge, and we are now a long way from the times when Buenos Ayres and its affairs were treated by facetious ignorant writers on the London press in want of a subject for "copy." The Barings business has improved our geography immensely. If the Daily Graphic a day or two ago did give us a picture of a flood in Cordoba "in Buenos Ayres," there are many who know too well where Cordoba is and where Entre Rios is when they see the respective announcements just made by Messrs. Murrieta and Morton Rose & Co. of the suspension of the interest on the loans contracted by those places. The default was expected, and of course under present circumstances makes no sensation; as the settlement of the provincial loans by the National Government is still understood to be under consideration. What I want to remind you of mostly is, that in reading the articles I have sent you, or others on Argentine finance, you must know that, if sometimes a little pessimistic, they are not necessarily "wrecking" articles. The city world is now much divided in opinion. Some, like Truth, choose to take an optimist view of the prospects of trade and finance in 1891. Others, with clever jewish countenances, roll their eyes and chew the ends of their cigars and tell you "it is all bad."

"We have had a bad year on the "Stock "Exchange. We are all poor. Barings,' "says my Hebrew friend. "Ah! we have "not seen the end of that. Rothschilds and "the rest may drop something yet. Lid-"derdale! Yes, Lidderdale; I see they "have presented him with an address "and he divides the credit of saving the "city with of course another Scotchman, "Currie of Glyns. Lord Salisbury was "there and knows all about it; why didn't "he add Lidderdale's name to the list of "New Year's baronets? "I don't know" "I timidly replied. Know! Of course "you don't. Dont you think our people "are as clever as the Scotch?" "Quite "I "said" and even more agreeable." "Well, "said my friend," it was not Lidderdale, "it was not Currie. It was H——who saved "us. He told them at the bank on that "Friday afternoon that if they left "that parlour to-night without doing "something they would never have anoth-"er chance. A crash would come to which "the Overend and Gurney business was "child's play."

This is not exactly history, but it is the way history is often written when founded on a crumb of fact; and it shows you better than dry money articles how the wind lies, or is thought to lie, in certain quarters. It is intended to account for certain foreboding paragraphs I send you. The intentions of the financial editor of Truth in combating such views are honest and his opinions may be right; but when in holes and corners, restaurants and music halls, we hear what 'Members of the House' say, under the influence perhaps of rather rough times, or the indigestion of the season, I repeat that much of what you will see is not wrecking but genuine, if mistaken, attempts at a forecast. We are in daily fears of a crash in Uruguay; and if the members of the Argentine Committee feel it necessary to dole out oracular and indefinite reports of the negotiations with the Government at Buenos Aires, you cannot be surprised, in view of the condition in which the Argentine Republic seems to be, that people of a gloomy turn of mind are beginning to lose hope. It is eight weeks to-day since the Baring collapse, and when only yesterday Mr. Lidderdale lets out of the bag that the liabilities of the firm are twenty-one millions sterling, and people pretend to stand aghast at the revelation when the failure ought to be already ancient history, you cannot blame people if they choose to think matters are not so much improved as it was thought they would be by this time. For all I know, the wires may be conveying to you at this moment the news of a complete settlement between the Committee and your Government; but nothing of the kind is generally known here.

MONTEVIDEO.

We hear that a "Teatro Popular" is to be built in the town of the Cerro. We are glad to hear that the inhabitants of that suburb have money to spend on theatres. We of Montevideo have not.

It is again reported that Dr. Alberto Nin will resign the Oriental Ministry in London, a post he has held with the greatest honour and satisfaction. It is said he takes the step on account of difficulties with the Oriental Consul in Liverpool.

The Siglo asserts that the portfolio of Foment has been offered to Don Federico Vidiella, who has asked for a day or two to consider the matter.

Monday and Tuesday were prolific in disorders and police cases, but none of a serious description. Bacchus, the crisis, the warm weather and hot tempers must be held responsible.

The new Committee of the "Casino Italiano" is formed as follows:—Dr. V. Tagle, C. Piovene, J. Talice, L. Tavolara, L. Chichizola, J. Carbone and V. Stajano.

The death took place on Tuesday night of the Sra. Rosalia Artigas de Ferreyra, daughter of the late Colonel Manuel Artigas, and connected with leading families of native society. For many years she was President of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, and was distinguished by her charitable works.

The Message of President Herrera, closing the sessions of the sixteenth Legislature, is remarkable for its brevity, at least for an official document in this part of the world. The original contains exactly a hundred and eighteen words, among which the word "honor" in various forms occurs seven times. In fact, a sarcastic friend on reading it, said that it seemed all "honor" and nothing else.

The popular Politeama Oriental Theatre (Iniciativa Arona) re-opens this evening with a Children's Company of Spanish Zarzuela. These juvenile artistes vary from eight to fourteen years of age, and have recently been playing in Buenos Aires with success. The pieces for to-night are "La Colegiela," "Niña Pancha" and "Chateau Margot."

The section of the extension of the Central Uruguay Railway between the stations Achar and General Nesto has just been opened to public service.

Conjectures as to the formation of the new Ministry continue rife, but nothing of any certainty is known. Probably now nothing will be done till the Carnival holidays are over. The loan is out of sight and out of mind, and, in our opinion is likely to remain so.

CHAPTER VI.

September 30th.—The men soon joined me, and in a few minutes the doe was skinned, disembowelled and quartered, and each with a load we made our way to the nearest grove, which we name Doe, where a fire was lit, and in a few minutes venison steaks, liver, heart, kidneys, tongue and head are broiled or roasted, and it is "cut and come again" until our appetites are appeased. It is really surprising the amount of meat a hungry man can stow away. Without exaggeration I think each of us ate from six to eight pounds of venison. The meat was fat, tender and juicy, and was easily digested, and none felt any inconvenience from the quantity eaten. We suspended the remaining portions of the meat from the limbs of a tree near the camp fire, lit our pipes, stretched ourselves on Mother Earth, and soon forgot the toils of the day and slept the sleep of the wearied.

The men had been cautioned to keep the fire well lighted during the night, as the smell of the meat might attract the tigers or other animals to our vicinity. Several times during the night I replenished the fuel, but not a man left his mosquito bar during the livelong night. We are now unaccustomed to keeping watch, and I trust to my light slumber to awake in the event of anything occurring.

October 1st.—All hands up early, and, after a hearty meal of venison and maté, we cut in thin strips, salted and put to dry in the sun portions of our meat; some we cut into very thin slices to dry as sweet "Charqui," as Jack terms it, and he has seen it made in Paraguay when he was there as a Lincolnshire farmer. From the hide Davy and myself made two pair of moccasins.

It was not until after midday that we started, leaving a quantity of undried meat cut in strips and hanging on poles exposed to the hot sun, to be fully cured by our return trip.

Several hours' tramp through 'osibo' groves, rushy 'arroyos,' dense thickets, thorny undergrowth, palm groves and grassy levels, brought us to a small circular mound elevation, free from under-growth and close to an 'arroyo.' One of the largest Osibo trees that I have yet seen, grows from the centre of the Mound, and we name it accordingly Osibo Mound. The aforesaid 'arroyo' separates us from an extensive forest of these trees which extends far to the northwards. Across the grassy level to the southward and westward is a conspicuous bright green grove of Tamarindas standing out from the 'palmar' in that direction.

The earth of this Mound is the same as Indian Mound, black and filled with pieces of broken shells and bones. Could find no remains of pottery or arrow heads, though some pieces of sand-stone rewarded our search.

Climbed the stately Osibo and from its uppermost branches obtained a good view. To the eastward not far distant can be seen a bright green streak winding amidst the browner grass, which indicates the course of the channel trending to the N.N.E. While in this tree made my first acquaintance with the 'garrapata' which I caught crawling on my neck. It is a species of blood sucking tick that inserts his head into one's flesh, and sucks until its body is distended to many times its usual size. They must be removed gently when once their head is introduced, otherwise, the head is separated from the body, and it makes a prolonged and painful ulcer. Moistening a piece of tobacco, and applying it to the insect causes it to slacken its hold; it then can be pulled out easier. Not desiring to make the acquaintance of more of these pests, which frequent this tree, I descend to the earth where the small ants molest one by crawling over the body. Santos ascended to the top of the tree, and standing on two limbs dexterously cut off a large dead branch for fuel, using the axe with both hands. His steadiness and dexterity was notable, when a misdirected blow or movement might throw him to the ground 60 feet below. Another fill of venison and we stretch ourselves by the fire and try to sleep. The small ants crawl all over my body, and cause anything but an agreeable sensation, and render sleep impossible.

October 3.—After an early meal of venison, which we are getting heartily tired of, and long for our pats, as the men term the "patos reales," or wild muscovy ducks cross the Arroyo, waist deep in the water and enter the Osibo Forest and for three hours continue in its refreshing shade, blazing the trunks as we pass them; rested near a palm grove, where I found an aroma tree in full blossom, and its grateful perfume recalls remembrance of my San Isidro home, and I gather a quantity of its fragant blossoms.

After our midday meal, finding our supply of salt much diminished in consequence of the quantity used charquing yesterday, I started back for open water camp with Jack, taking nothing but my revolver and knife, so that I could travel light, directing Davy and Santos to push onwards in the direction of Mount Yacadigo, blazing the trees as they proceeded. Made excellent time to Doegrove, where we stopped to take the meat left to dry to Kelly and Martin.

The buzzards and hawks had consumed every piece and cleaned the bones strewed about. Resumed the back track following the trail until, through inattention to my pocket compass and an over-confidence in my wood craft, I got astray from the trail and approached the river. A doe and fawn were grazing near me, a fine buck started from his lair in the grass and gazing at us for a moment with a surprised look, bounded away over the plain, and soon we could see nothing of him but his branching antlers as he moved through the rushes.

I regretted that I had not brought my rifle, as he was within 50 yards when he arose from his couch. The many groves in view have such a similar appearance that I am puzzled and cannot with certainty distinguish the one where our camp is located. I know that by following the stream down I shall eventually reach it, but my experience of the bends and turns and the difficulties near them deter me from attempting it. I climb a tall osibo, and across a line of rushes can discern the burnt ground, descend and push towards it, and just at dark strike the trail. Jack, who is tired, brightened, and discouraged, wishes to rest too often, and I threaten to leave him alone, if he does not move faster. Reached open water camp at 8 p.m. and found Martin suffering greatly from cystitis; administered a remedy which gave him partial relief and sleep for some hours. Kelly has had a tiger scare and is in a great state of trepidation. It appears that yesterday morning he left the camp fire unarmed and entered the adjoining woods a few yards; while stooping down he heard a noise behind him; looking round he saw a tiger not five yards distant. He was so frightened at such an unexpected sight that he could only stare at the creature, which tried to avoid his looks by leaping from side to side. I had previously told him that men had been known to frighten tigers by looking boldly and steadily at them.

CLASSIFICATION OF GRAIN.

To the Editor of the STANDARD.

Dear Sir,

I have to thank for Mr. Goodwin for his information regarding the composition of Grain Trade Associations, and I may inform him that corresponding elements in like manner constitute other Trade Associations.

And now to refer to his very unique calculation, showing eighteen pence per quarter profit owing to classification. He wants us to believe that the wheat, after picking out all the best, and leaving only the "light," which, of course, yields less flour, will sell at the same price as the parcel would fetch with all the best in it; but really that is imposing too much upon our credulity, and if it were not for that very important discrepancy, it would be a very pretty statement.

However, as Mr. Goodwin says that inspection has now made a fair start, we will, in due course, be able to learn what the consumers in Europe say.

Speculators "to arrive" are, of course, no criterion, they occasionally do all sorts of wild things, and the trade consumers as a rule do not buy "to arrive," preferring to supply their wants on the spot, where they can see what they are buying. Mr. Goodwin tells us that an export trade should be arranged so that the most important of the business is left to others who have no interest whatever in the result, and shippers will, no doubt, thank him for the "wrinkle?" Oh dear no, Mr Goodwin, that is not the way to conduct the business successfully. You may charter cheaply, finance favorably, and put the cargo on board safely, paying a very considerably heavier insurance premium if it be shipped in bulk than in bags, but the most important part of the whole affair is to see for yourself that you are really shipping what you contracted for. Many are the records of disaster through neglecting that essential point.

And having taken the liberty of criticising Mr. Goodwin's scheme, I hope I may be excused if I presume to express an opinion on Mr. Thomas Martin's suggestion; it seems most practical and all that is necessary to meet the requirements of buyers in Europe, and is in harmony with all I have written on this subject.

I am, etc.,

Experience.

RAILWAYS IN THE ORIENT.

Travellers who have been compelled to take the uncomfortable diligence journey from Beyrou to Damascus will appreciate the proposed building of a railway from Acca, on the Mediterranean Sea, to Damascus. Acca, with a population of 10,000, is the best fortified military town on the coast. The concessionary is authorised to build jetties and landing-places to enable vessels to come alongside the wharf, and to facilitate the loading and unloading of merchandize. The main line of railway will run from Acca to Mejdel, and then proceed in a north-easterly direction to Lake Tiberias, along which it will pass to a point where the River Jordan pours its waters into it. From there the line will follow the western bank of the Jordan to Jisr-Banat Yacoob, crossing to the eastern bank. It will then continue almost due north along the course of the Jordan and the eastern bank of Lake Hooleh to the village of Banias; thence in a north-easterly direction along the old Roman road to its inland terminus, Damascus. The entire line will be about 116 miles in length. There are also to be branch roads reaching to towns most frequented by travellers. The enterprise is in the hands of a party of English capitalists, who intend laying out about £1,140,000 ($5,720,000) on the scheme. From all accounts the success of the undertaking seems to be assured, as the line will traverse very fertile districts, inhabited by a considerable and for the most part well-to-do population.

In the city of Damascus itself is to be constructed a tramway by animal traction. At first this enterprise was not thought to be feasible. Two Belgian engineers, in the interest of a Belgian tramway company, went over the ground, and reported that the scheme was neither practicable nor expedient, because of the necessity the company would be under of expropriating in various parts of the city a number of narrow streets at a heavy expense. The company would also, so the report said, incur the obligation of laying down five different lines in five different streets, two only of which would be popular and profitable, while the others would be costly and unremunerative. Valuable modifications in the concession have since been secured, and work will be begun at once. The capital for this enterprise is $1,200,000.

Another important railway route is projected, which if carrird out, will give a direct line of rail from Banias to Beyroot. This latter place has the best harbor on the Syrian coast. It is the most, if not the only, civilized and prosperous city in Syria and Palestine. Fifty years ago its population did not exceed 5,000, now it is 82,000, the majority being Christians. Many improvements have been made in the city, including the introduction of water and gas works. Railway facilities would still further improve the city.

The railway from Jaffa—Joppa of our English Bible, one of the oldest towns in the world—to Jerusalem is now in course of construction. The official ceremonies in connection with the commencement of the work took place near Jaffa on March 31st. The station at Jerusalem is to be one of the handsomest structures of its kind in the East. The designs have been drawn upon the plan of a station recently erected in the south of England. The locomotives are being made in Philadelphia. Three of them were completed a few months ago and shipped to Jaffa, where they arrived about the middle of September. It will interest American citizens to know that the first locomotives ever used in that ancient land were made in the United States.

By far the most important line of railway now being built in the East is the trunk line to traverse Asia Minor and connect Constantinople with Bagdad. This, when completed, will give an almost continuous line of rail from Paris to the head of the Persian Gulf. The line, as at present operated, runs from Paris to Constantinople, (1,857 miles,) and traverses six countries—France, Germany, Austria Hungary, Servia, Bulgaria, and Turkey. The train running between these two cities takes the longest journey made on any European railway. The contractors who have the work of this new line in hand are bound to complete the distance to Angora by October, 1892. The line to Ada Bazaar has already been opened, and a branch is now being built from there to Herakeea, where extensive coal fields are owned and worked by the Government.

A contract has been awarded to a Paris firm for the construction of a railway bridge over the Nile at Embabeh, just north of Boulak, a place well known to many American tourists. This bridge is to join the Upper Egypt Railway with the Lower Egypt Railway, and will also have two roadways for ordinary traffic. One span of the structure will be made to open for navigation. The cost of this bridge will be nearly 410,000 dollars.

Regarding the general working of the Egyptian railways, it may be said that the fast trains between Cairo and Alexandria are equal in rapidity to those in Europe, taking only three and three quarter hours for making the distance of 131 miles between the two points named. The number of travellers on all the lines is increasing every year, and it is pleasing to note that a good proportion of them are from the United States.—Exchange.

Railway Items.

The manager of the Central Cordoba Railway has sent to the Finance Minister the account of guarantee due on the 30th of next month. The amount is $62,500 gold.

The Board of Public Works have reported favorably on the application of the North East Argentine Railway Company for authority to open to traffic the sections from Curuzu-Cusitia to Mercedes and from Corrientes to Saladas. The Board state, however, that certain works, necessary for the safety of the line, must be completed before the 15th of this month on the first section and before the 15th prox. on the second.

We are glad to note that the Railway Companies are beginning to provide especial facilities for the public on feast days. The Central Argentine will run special trains to-morrow, Monday and Tuesday for the San Fernando Carnival. For full parculars see our advertisement columns.

The Inspector-General has refused to report on Messrs. Blancas and Co's proposal to build a port and railways in the Delta of the Parana, owing to his having no plans or document to guide him.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The event of to day is the landing of General Paunero's remains from the Admiral Brown, which arrived in the Roads yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, but could not enter the Basin as the river was very low. This morning at 8 o'clock two Committees, one headed by Don Emilio Castro and the other by General Emilio Mitre, will go out in the Villarino to receive the remains, which will be landed and taken to the Cathedral, where a Funeral Mass will be sung at 10 o'clock. The cortege will proceed to the Recoleta by Calles Florida and Juncal and Avenida Republica. The Minister of Foreign Affairs will represent the Government. The troops of the garrison will pay full military honours, and Fort Independencia will fire minute guns till the ceremony is over.

The Ministers of the Interior and of Education, General Roca and Dr. Carballido, leave this evening for Mar del Plata where they intend stopping till the end of Carnival. Commander Latorre, Secretary of the Minister of the Interior, joins the party.

There was a delightful touch of autumn in the weather yesterday, "and the consequence was," as the girls' game says, the streets were rather livelier all day, and less crisis depression was manifest on the surface, though in business circles blue gloom prevailed.

All the banks have decided to make holiday during Carnival; the Bolsa always does, so the Gold Eagle will have three days to himself. The masquerade balls begin to-night at several theatres, and at all the clubs, fashionable, semi fashionable, and unfashionable.

The death of Dr. Albarellos removes the doyen of the Faculty of Medical Sciences; he was 81 years of age. There was a large attendance at the funeral yesterday.

An evening colleague says that Padlewski, the assassin of General Silverikoff, has arrived in this city.

There was very serious news from Asuncion yesterday. There was an election there on Wednesday and a fierce fight in which several patriots were finally and fatally disposed of, amongst them two nephews of the ex-President of the Republic, General Caballero.

It is rumoured that the private banks are thinking of asking the Supreme Federal Court its opinion of Cato's two per cent tax on their deposits. It is quite certain that a good deal of the fresh taxation could be knocked on the head by an appeal to the highest tribunal in the land.

Several prominent families in Chile are expected at Montevideo in the Galacia.

Letters from Montevideo say that groups of starving people are now to be seen at the doors of the restaurants eagerly imploring food and devouring it when given to them. Here we have not reached this sad pitch yet; and the beggars are all imported professionals who have snug amounts either hidden in their dirty rags or lodged in the bank.

The Fluminenses are going the pace with a vengeance. Mad speculation does not afford them excitement enough, so they have imported a gang of bullfighters from Montevideo.

The recent rain did considerable damage in the Santa Fe wheat colonies to a large quantity of wheat that had been cut and left unstacked in the fields. Even the farmers are becoming improvident in this improvident land.

Messrs Jacobsen, of Calle Florida, have received a large batch of new books, including the Life of Ferdinand Magellan and the First Circumnavigation of the Globe, 1488-1521, by F. H. H. Guillemard; Darwin's Coral Reefs; Ready Reference, compiled by W. R. Balch; Brothers in Arms, an Artillery Tale, by W. M. Watkins-Pitchford; The Demoniac, by Walter Besant.

A lecture on "The art of speaking and reading aloud in public" will be given by the Rev. A. T. B. Pinchard at the Y. M. C. A., 417 Avenida Montes de Oca this evening (Saturday) at 8 p.m. All will be welcomed.

We beg to thank the Union Civica for sending us a copy of their truly magnificent book "Origen, Organizacion y Tendencias de la Union Civica." Even in this land of costly books this volume is "facile princeps" in printing and illustration. It contains portraits of all the prominent men of the party and sketches of all the stirring events in this city in July last. It was eagerly snapped up yesterday at $15 per copy. The publishers are Messrs Laudenberger and Conte.

We shall soon have the pleasure of welcoming a number of distinguished French colleagues who are making a trip round the world in a beautiful steam yacht called 'La France,' which is expected to arrive here shortly. Half a dozen leading French papers are represented on board, amongst them the veteran Journal des Debats.

Our neighbours in Montevideo are already groaning under the "fiscalization" nuisance entailed by the new taxes. An army of new inspectors etc. is already at work in all the factories, shops, storehouses, etc. They begin work at sunrise. The same kind of thing is in store for us here when Cato recruits the host of employees required to carry it out. The Treasury is bound to lose more than ever by smuggling and all kinds of ingenious dodges to evade the fresh taxation.

The following paragraph from the Financial Times will interest electricians and railway men:—

"Electric head-lights for locomotives have been adopted on various American lines. It is stated that recently a driver who was accustomed to use an engine equipped with one of those lights had to send it in to the workshop for a week to be repaired, and was put in charge of another engine which had a common head light. After using this for one trip, he applied for leave of absence until his regular locomotive was again in working order. This story, if true, certainly speaks well for the merits of the new type of head-light, unless we regard it as indicative only of the engine-driver's ingenuity in the attempt to secure a week's holiday."

'Fra Diavolo' was again played at the National Theatre on Thursday when, in spite of the continued non-appearance of the star tenor, a very fair house assembled to enjoy the favourite old opera. Sta. Roncagli was a "piquanto" Zerlina and Sra. Sosso a very attractive "Miladi": the orchestra was super-excellent. We trust the gallant 'empresario' will continue his enterprise after Carnival, and that he will find an efficient substitute for the recreant tenor, against whom, 'on dit,' legal proceedings are being taken.

We are requested to state that there will be no evening service either at St John's Anglican Church or at St. Laurence's Church, Belgrano, on Sunday next.

There was a scare at the north end of the city about midnight on Thursday, owing to a battery of artillery and the 6th cavalry moving about Calle Juncal at the Retiro. Of course the peaceable residents at once rushed to the conclusion that another 26th of July business was at hand. The scare was increased by one or two of the men's rifles going off accidentally, and that was the end of it. People are so nervous now that the sound of a rocket or cracker makes them jump.

We recommend our readers and subscribers who may have occasion to go to the South West end of town after dark to carry a pocket-pistol (one that shoots), as the kerosene street lamps in that quarter have, for some unknown reason, been left unlit of late.

This is the way in which a leading New York paper is posted in the "Almanach de Gotha":—King Humbert of Italy is forty-two years old. His face, like Parnell's, has a fixed expression of melancholy. He is brave, courteous and devoted to his only child, a boy of fourteen. The King speaks French as well as he does Italian, and is said to be a charming man to meet." The Prince of Naples was 21 years old last November, and is a Colonel on active service in the Italian army.

The holders of those valuable properties "pomitos" are in despair at the prohibition to use them during Carnival. How they could have laid the flattering unction to their souls that the public would return to the old, silly horseplay with their wares is more than we can explain. Most of the stock of "pomitos" on hand is, we should say, a good many years old, and the best market for them is Tartary or Darkest Africa.

The news from Rio Janeiro yesterday was not at all agreeable. "Yellow Jack" has quite suddenly developed an activity not expected from him, as he has lain more or less dormant since the summer began. The Health Board here cannot keep their eyes too widely open, as anything in the way of imported disease added to the present woes of the country would be more than it could bear.

The National Bank has done the generous with the Municipality and reduced the rate of interest on the six million dollars due to it by our hard-up Corporation from 12 to 7 per cent.

Patti and Sarah Bernhardt have formed a charitable partnership to start a Savings' Bank and Mutual Aid Society for broken-down actors and singers. If the great ones of the profession follow the lead of Adelina and Sarah properly, the scheme ought to prove a great success.

The Rosario papers complain greatly of the dog-poisoning going on by order of the Mayor. Some terrible corrosive poison that kills instantly is squirted on the dogs' muzzles: the same about which such an outcry was raised here last year. The dead dogs are left about the streets in the old fashion of the times when everybody used his street as a slop-bucket.

A novel whaling expedition is about to be undertaken by three American whalers—Hume, Grampus and Nicoline—which have gone to the Arctic regions to winter at the mouth of the Mackenzie river. In order to be well supplied with food, they have taken what will last for two years, and they expect also to get food from the whalers in the summer. This is the highest point any whaler has reached, being 1000 miles from the North Pole.

The last day for playing off the second ties of the Hurlingham Racquet Handicap has been fixed for the 15th instant, and particulars of the drawing of the second, third and final ties can be obtained from the hon. sec., 685 Cangallo, or at the Club House, Hurlingham.

Speaking of Robert Madou, a famous portrait painter of thirty years ago, a London paper says:—"Robert made his mark, and the Arg. Republic, although it loves ... more than art, bought his picture of Charles V., which has witnessed a good many stormy scenes in the Council Chamber of Buenos Aires." What has become of this picture? Is it still in this country?

Compania Primitiva

DE

Rebaja de Precios,

En virtud de las reformas realizadas en la fabrica de esta compañia, que le permiten elaborar una contidad mucho mayor de gas de la que antes producia, el directorio ha resuelto hasta nuevo aviso fijar el precio del gas del modo siguiente que regira desde el 1° de Febrero proximo.
Por metro cubico $0·225.
Por impuesto municipal $0·004—Son 0·23 pesos el metro cubico.
Para consumidores de cierta importancia haremos un descuento en relacion al consumo.
No duda el directorio que dada la calidad del gas que fabrica esta compañia, cuya intensidad de luz es siempre superior al tipo oficial de 20 velas, el publico se penetrara de la gran ventaja que tiene en usarlo.
Si hasta ahora hemos cobrado el precio de 25 centavos por metro cubico, es porque nuestros elementos de produccion no nos permitian dar abasto a todos los pedidos; hoy, a pesar de las malas circunstancias por el alto precio del oro, lo expenderemos a 23 centavos incluso en este precio el impuesto municipal, contando con que el aumento de consumo nos compensara la rebaja que hacemos en favor de nuestros numerosos clientes
Buenos Aires, Enero 26 de 1891.

THE DIPPING SEASON.

Under the above heading, the following appears in a recent exchange:—

"Speaking of Dips themselves, perhaps the most significant feature in their "History is the way that the Old fashioned have been superseded by the more "Modern and Scientific preparations. As Tobacco gave place to the various "Fluids" "and these again to the "Powders" so we find to-day these latter retiring before the "new Paste Dips. Of the many recent experiments we have witnessed in England and "the Colonies, the most successful were with an Arsenical Paste, manufactured by "Tomlinson and Hayward, of Lincoln, a firm that has always been noted for keeping "abreast of the times."
"The advantages of the Paste over the "Powders" are many:—
"It does not make the wool dry and harsh, but leaves it soft and silky, giving a "healthy sweet smell to the sheep. Being, so to speak, already mixed, it is easier to "prepare there, being no waste nor loose "Powders," to fly about.
"As it is prepared with Carbolic it is lighter than the "Powders" and does not "so readily settle to the bottom, and for the same reason it is not injurious to the "hands. It goes in less space and is a more concentrated form than the "Powders," "thus effecting an economy in transport and labour. It costs less, and will mix with "any kind of water. In a word, it is the "Powders," cleared of their many inherent "defects, with their curative properties and good qualities preserved and increased, "Until the manufacturers make some better discovery

EXCHANGE RATES—

England	14¾d.
France	1.55 fcs.

Gold equivalent	321.00

Friday, February 6th.

Although the day has not been a busy one on 'Change, it was marked by intense excitement, which though in part occasioned by a tremendous rush up in gold and fall in stocks, must have some other more potent and invisible foundation. Everybody was asking what was up, and nobody could give anything like an explanation, which, giving an air of mystery to matters, made the distrust and uneasiness all the more accentuated. Cedula holders are naturally most alarmed at the tremendous drop in the quotations, which seem fast going to bed rock level, and now that the collapse is getting into full swing and the panic spreading, it will be difficult to say when bottom is touched. Gold rose steadily all day long, standing at 230 at 2 p.m, and at 334 at 4.30 p.m., remaining so steady that the probabilities are it will touch 340 to-morrow unless there is a decided change in the temperament of the market. National Bank shares toppled to 88, and are tottering still. Catalinas are weak-kneed at 16.20 and Constructors neglected at 11.10. In exchange, brokers reported very little done, but we heard of some bills passed at 1.52 fcs. Paris and 1.54 fcs. Antwerp, whilst the sterling rate in gold was quoted at 48½d. The situation is, in brief, far from reassuring, and there are clouds gathering on the horizon that are menacing serious complications for the market.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

The excitement on 'Change this afternoon verged on the borders of a general panic, and the whole market groaned as gold rushed up and stocks collapsed. Already in the morning the "habitues" in the hall, those familiar with every throb of the establishment, had misgivings and saw the premonitory symptoms of a black afternoon. Long before three o'clock the main hall began to fill, and members went on increasing as the feverish excitement inside spread to the street and Plaza. There is no disguising the fact that for days past the market has been fidgetty and uneasy: there is something in the atmosphere that tends to increase distrust; there are rumours floating in the ambient that are apt to shake the foundations of the market. There is an impression that something is wrong, and this nervousness tends to magnify the slightest impressions.

Distrust is the bane in the market, and unfortunately the very bitter tone of the press, the false alarms, the absurd rumors, the threats, the injudicious mingling of politics with finances, the war against the banks, the Cedula muddle, what not—all combine to render an already critical situation more critical. Speculation on 'Change is dead and coffined, and normal business in stocks and shares is rapidly approaching the same effete condition. This afternoon, for instance, the whole fabric threatened to give way: National Bank shares glided down in a most extraordinary manner to 88; there was no ostensible reason for the fall, rather the "degringolade;" but the stock gave way like a landslip and closed with a falling tendency. Cedulas ran down at lightning speed. Series N touched bottom at 38 80, closed weak at 39. Series P closed at 43—others at 40. The whole market was staggered and all asked with unconscious irony—What's up.

What's up? Gold answered the question at 334! Verily there is some fatality about the gold premium. It is the barometer of our visissitudes and misfortunes. All look to it as the regulator of all our sublunary affairs. In such a state of mind, a sudden rise in the premium necessarily causes alarm, and the anxiety this afternood was painted on every countenance. At 3 p.m. in the street there were sellers of the precious metal at 330, at 4 p.m. there were buyers at 334, the quotation reported firm, with rising tendency and many buyers. Somebody or some people started a "bola" that large quantities of gold were being shipped from the country, and the credulous may have believed it and rushed to secure the metal. But the real cause of the rise in gold is distrust distrust, and nothing but distrust. Meantime, people ask where will this rise stop, when will this distrust disappear?

There were many anxious enquiries for news from London, but nothing of any importance came from that quarter. Our London friends must feel in a peculiar frame of mind when they hear of the vagaries of the gold premium here, on the very heels of the fresh credits opened to the National Bank. The market, with its proverbial inconsistency, instead of falling headlong, has flared up like a rocket.

It is urged that the private bankers might agree to fix some kind of uniform basis for exchange operations in the market. This might be done if there were a little good will, but the interests of bankers appear to be at variance; there could be no better proof than the conflicting exchange rates and discounts—some banks will not discount a dollar, others do a small business, at 8 ojo some operate at 9 ojo. Everything threatens to become chaotic.

It was said in exchange circles to-day that the two great State Banks had entered the market to take. This seems improbable, as the National Bank is drawing on fresh credits; it would imply a game at cross purposes.

Friends who have arrived from the northern parts of the province report general havoc in the maize plantations and a most dreary aspect about the whole country, especially from San Nicolas to Pergamino and Salto. There is little or no maize left. Very few settlers took the trouble to destroy the young locusts and the majority must now rue the consequences of neglect.

The Government gave orders to-day to deposit $82,512 in the National Bank to pay for work done by the Committee of the Obras del Riachuelo during the month of January.

The Government approved to day the charter of the Banco Sabadell. This bank is established in Spain with a capital of 10 million pesetas and will open a branch in this city.

The lumber business appears to be active. Don Emilio Schroeder, the well-known corralon broker, reports that he has sold since the 15th ultimo about half a million dollars' worth of various kinds. All these orders were for rural account, which shows that the camp does not much feel the pinch of the crisis. The fact of the matter is, this country is suffering from a financial, not an economic, crisis; meantime, our Finance Minister increases taxation to improve the value of the paper dollar.

The favorite Saturno, of the La Platense Flotilla Company, is now in command of our popular friend Captain Murray, which means that the old boat is in charge of the soul of good humor and good fellowship. She is placed on her usual route.

We see that several engineers have arrived from New York with a large plant of well-drilling machines for the Pierce Artesian Well Company. This is of interest to estancieros and railway people all over this country.

The inhabitants of Choele-Choel Island have petitioned Government not to lease the island. There are three hundred families on the island, all doing very well. They ask Government to recognise it as a colony.

The action brought by Mr. Fabian Gomez del Castaño against Don Juan Anchorena has caused quite a sensation, not alone on account of the standing of the parties, but more still on account of the nature of the suit. Mr. Gomez claims that whilst in Europe his grandmother, Mrs. Estanislada Arana de Anchorena, died leaving him by will a fifth part of her property, or say 60,000,000 of the old currency, and that Mr. J. Anchorena and Mr. B. Butteler, the latter being the plaintiff's guardian, designedly deprived him of his inheritance alleging the non-existence of the will. The case has not been on yet for hearing, but will convulse society, of which both parties are leading members. The pecuniary interest is also large enough to attract great attention, and society is puzzled what to make out of the extraordinary charges made.

The Cedula question continues to monopolize the whole market, and it is scarcely necessary to state that discontent is daily growing more manifest, as shewn by the collapse in the quotations, whilst the new measure of the Government is not calculated to improve the situation in the slightest, since whilst on the one hand the proposal of the Government is impracticable, on the other the holders think they should have some voice in the arrangement of the affair. The most scandalous part of the business, apart from the nature of the mortgages effected, is that the series M, N, O, and P alone represent $193,334,350, or considerably more than half the total issue of Cedulas in circulation, a convincing proof of the almost criminal folly of the various boards in piling up such a burden of paper on an already overburdened market, and this in the brief space of three years. No wonder that Nemesis was dogging their footsteps.

The measure proposed by Government is to give the holders this year 40 p.c. of their interest and in successive years such proportion as may be determined by the board of the bank and the Government, having regard to the receipts of the bank. Now it it difficult to assert with accuracy what these receipts may be, but taking the returns for quarter ended October 31st, 1890, the last quarter's returns not yet being liquidated, it is difficult to see even where the 10 p.c. is to come from, since the receipts barely amounted to 1¾ million, as against nearly 6 millions of the quarterly disbursements. There have been of course various important sums received from "morose" debtors, but as these have been given a fixed destination and so are not applicable to the payment of the coupons, they must be left out of calculation. The fact remains that unless matters improve very appreciably, the bank cannot pay even 40 p.c. to the holders, so that it is no wonder holders of Cedulas should view with mistrust the proposal of the Government. Nor is it for the same reason at all surprising that the quotations of the Cedulas should be dwindling apace.

We have been authorized to state that during Carnival there will be no attendence at the British Consulate. The banks and Bolsa will also be closed.

In regard to the City Improvement Works, the Board of Public Works have submitted the following resolution:—That, whereas (1) Messrs. Bateman, Parsons and Bateman refuse to obey the decree of October 25, 1890, thus involving serious delays in the approval of plans, and (2) that these gentlemen have notified Government that they will be placed in the necessity of resigning the direction of the works, and (3) that in this case it would not do to stop studying and approving the plan.—Messrs Bateman, Parsons and Bateman immediately return the plans sent to them in accordance with the decree already mentioned.

The Customs' receipts to-day were:—

According to the balance-sheet of the Caja de Conversion for month of January, the leading items of which we gave in our last issue, the total of notes in circulation amounts to 235,030,436 of the issues of 3rd Nov., 1887, and 6th Nov., 1890, and of the old emission declared legal currency by decree 12,016,000 dollars, making a total of 247,046,000 dollars in circulation actually. The amount of notes burned up to date stands at 5,150,000 m$n.

The Minister of Finance, in answer to the petition of the Chamber of Commerce anent the increase of the wool tariff to 36 gold dollars per 100 kilos, has settled the matter by declaring that the figure should have been, or rather is, 26; 36 being a typographical error. Exporters will naturally receive this news with satisfaction, as the alarm was very pronounced. It is only another instance of the mountain in labour.

Mendoza advices announce the discovery of what is hoped will prove to be a treasure in black diamonds, Dr. Jose Salas having discovered a coal mine in the department of San Rafael. The quality is supposed to be far superior to anything yet discovered in this country, and a company is being formed to work the business on a large scale.

Discounts continue to rule tight in the market, the banks only obliging their customers. Commercial bills are done at 8 to 9 p.c. and in gold nothing is done. The reluctance of the State banks to discount is much commented on, especially as according to the balance-sheet of the Caja de Conversion the latter delivered to the National Bank 22,174,500 m$n for account of the National Mortgage Bank.

We take the following from the Montevideo Times:—

"Though very busy to-day, chiefly in National Bank shares, the market was not so favourably inclined, and all the efforts of the 'bear' syndicate could not maintain the prices reached on Monday. Closing prices all round show a fall.

"Gold no longer seems an object of much movement, and keeps more or less within the same limits, the daily fluctuations being of small importance. It opened at 129¼ and after a few fractional variations closed at 129⅞. $22,000 sold; 17 operations.

"National Bank shares monopolised the greater part of the day's business, but at lower prices than on Monday, and evidently weak and wavering. They opened at 32 for cash, and after dancing about between 30½ and 32¾ finally closed at 31 for cash and to-morrow, and 31½ for Saturday.

"Cedulas were fairly busy; $121,000 series A sold at 44 to 43 cash, 44½ to 44 end of month, closing at the lower figures. Five thousand series B sold at 42 for end of month."

The Conversion Office burned yesterday 25,000 notes of five dollars each, which are part of the 5 p.c. paid lately by the National bank.

Messrs. A. Bullrich and Co. sold yesterday the following racehorses:—Neapolis, 4200 m$n, to Stud Las Hortigas; Jubileo, 1400 m$n, to Sr. Carlos G. Palacios; Holland, 1200 m$n, to Stud Los Nogales.

Messrs. Cesar Ramella and Co. have sold by auction the house Calle Maipu 645, for 43,000 m$n. The base of sale was 30,000 m$n.

The movement in the Central Produce Market yesterday (February 5th) was as follows:—

Arrivals: 47 wagons containing 105,162 kilos wool, 4007 do sheepskins, 3721 do cowhides, 61 do hair, 918 do tallow, 8,000 do wheat, 13,700 do flax. Total, 135,569 kilos.

Messrs. Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in reporting favourably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine." Up to date we have shorn upwards of 300 Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully: it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.

I have timed our Amateur Shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.

Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Januar 5 1880. To J. T. Davenprt, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhoea and Dysentery, Sapasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomitng of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of he Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regrotted to say, had been sworn to.—See The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
